Introduction

What the Church Wished the Elders Knew

- Communication and Understanding are keys
- House divided... (Matthew 12:25)
- Needed for spiritual health and growth

"Any kingdom divided against itself is laid waste; and [b]any city or house divided against itself will not stand."

Matthew 12:25

Seek the Good of the Church

1 Peter 5:1–3

Therefore, I exhort the elders among you, as your fellow elder and witness of the sufferings of Christ, and a partaker also of the glory that is to be revealed,
1 Peter 5:1–3

NASB95

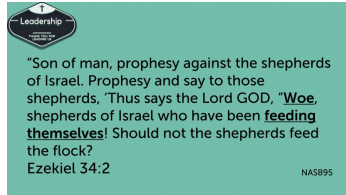

The elders are to act like loving shepherds who act out of genuine love for their flock.

This, by the way, is the same command given to all Christians and not just to the elders.

Peter is exhorting the leadership to always seek what is best for the church, overall and as individuals.

For example, remember when Jesus told his disciple the parable of the lost sheep, lost coin and prodigal son? This genuine concern is for the love of the individual and, for the church.

Ezekiel 34:2

The Woe! is due because the rulers should have understood their God-given tasks to take care of the flock .

These kings and leaders were more concerned with feeding themselves first and not taking care of the congregation.

Elders in the church have a God-given responsibility to always seek the good of the church.

Seek the Good of the Church

1 Timothy 3:2, 6

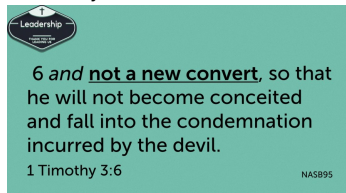

There is a reason why an elder must have this ability and aptitude. One of the primary roles of a shepherd is to care for, watch for, and protect the flock.

One area where this is important is in the teaching, knowing the Word of God well enough to stop the mouths of false teachers.

Some may say, "This doesn't mean that an elder must be a preacher, and that is true. But an elder must be able to teach.

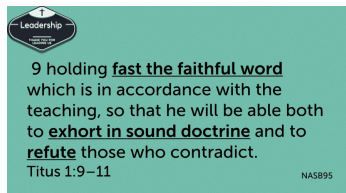

1 Timothy 3:6

The need for leaders to be active teachers of God's word is seen in: 1 Thess. 5:12; 1 Tim. 5:17; Heb. 13:7

One obvious caveat, an elder was be able to teach the truth, not his opinions and pet peeves.

Titus 1:9-11

Communicate with the Church

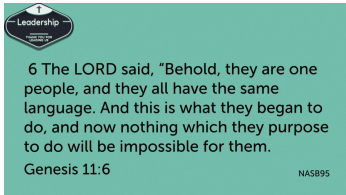

Communicating with the church does not mean that the church needs to be told everything about everything/everyone.

Every man considering to serve as an elder must understand that there will be times when the flock will share information with you that cannot be shared with everyone, because of confidence.

However, the church wishes that the eldership, as whole and in agreement, would communicate with the church.

There are some elders who believe they do not need to answer to the church, only to God.

Genesis 11:6

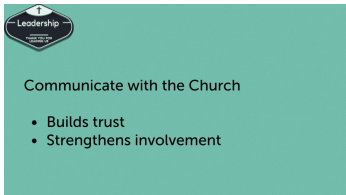

The alarm God was sounding here was that if the people continued with perfect communication, they would be so united that nothing could stop them from accomplishing any project.

In this case, their project was evil in the building of the Tower of Babel, and refusing to spread out and populate the earth.

For this lesson, it is important to note that open and good communication allows the church and leadership to be on the same page, same plan and accomplish much.

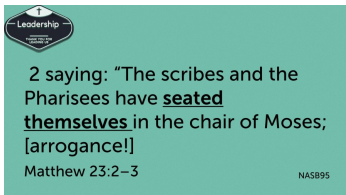

Communicate with the Church

Lead and not Just Direct

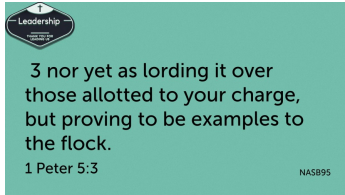

Matthew 23:2-3

These leaders wanted authority and clout. They would force (lord) requirements on the people but would not do it themselves.

1 Peter 5:3

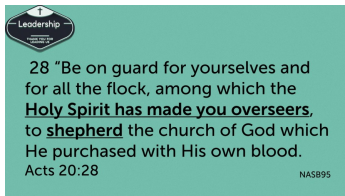

Part of leading the church is to set the example in everything godly.

Let us never forget that our leaders are human, susceptible to every temptation and sin you and are. As the flock we should always show respect and love towards our shepherds.

Be Shepherds not just Administrat...

Acts 20:28

Paul's reference to the Ephesian elders took up the metaphor of the shepherd and the flock.

Thus he commanded them to "be shepherds" (ποιμαίνειν, poimainein) of the church, a charge that would be especially appropriate in the face of the "savage wolves" which would come after his departure.

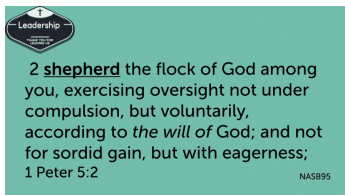

His reference was to false teachers, a threat which soon became reality in the churches of Asia Minor.

In many cases these false doctrines arose from believers within the church.

Their duty was to care for "the church of God which he bought with his own blood."

This command had nothing to do with setting budgets, setting worship times and selecting teaching materials. It had to do with loving and smelling like their sheep.

Leadership
WHAT THE CHURCH WISHES

The church should be united. God's way of providing us with unity to give us shepherds who love and care for the church.

We all must recognize, understand and appreciate the diverse responsibilities that we all have, especially those who lead us.

Jesus is our Chief Shepherd

1 Peter 5:4

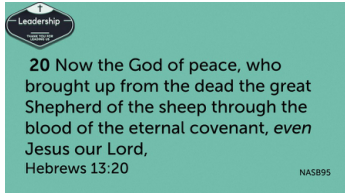

Leadership
4 And when the Chief Shepherd appears, you will receive the unfading crown of glory.

1 Peter 5:4 NASB95

When Jesus comes again, faithful shepherds will receive their reward. What we would call "wreathes" (made either of leaves or other vegetation, or of gold or silver), were commonly awarded to show honor, not only to athletes, but for virtually any area of endeavor (for military success, government service, making contributions as a benefactor, etc.). Peter uses the word metaphorically and in contrast to wreathes of vegetation or even precious metals which eventually rot or corrode.

Hebrews 13:20

Leadership
20 Now the God of peace, who brought up from the dead the great Shepherd of the sheep through the blood of the eternal covenant, even Jesus our Lord,
Hebrews 13:20 NASB95

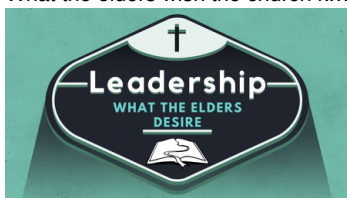

As the Chief Shepherd He laid down His life for the church.

Let us obey the Gospel with humility and submit to God's will.

WHAT THE ELDERS DESIRE

Hebrews 13:17

1 Timothy 3:1–7

NASB95

The church appointed them on the basis of maturity, wisdom and equipped with good judgment.

Timothy is dealing with an established church with leaders already in place (cf.).

Paul's concern is the place these men may have in the false teaching which is presenting itself in Ephesus ().

Paul provides a sharp contrast between the characteristics of these men who serve as overseers or bishops and the false teachers who are present in Ephesus.

1 Timothy 5:19

19 Do not receive an accusation against an elder except on the basis of two or three witnesses.

1 Timothy 5:19

NASB95

Take caution when accusing an elder, defend them when others will not

Paul is here simply calling for Timothy to protect the reputation of an elder as one should anyone (). It is very easy for elders, or for that matter anyone in a leadership position, to be the recipient of unfair and untrue accusations.

Give them the benefit of the doubt

- All qualifications point to maturity
- If we cannot trust their judgment they should have never been appointed

NASB95

Since God is the author and source of unity among believers, He obviously supplies the church with those things necessary for unity.

Hebrews 13:17

17 Obey your leaders and submit to them, for they keep watch over your souls as those who will give an account. Let them do this with joy and not with grief, for this would be unprofitable for you.

Hebrews 13:17

NASB95

Give them the benefit of the doubt

- Heb. 13:7 - a call to imitate their faith
- Sheep can make job easier or a burden
- God holds leaders responsible
- James 3:1 - not many teachers
- Reciprocated by members who accept their responsibilities
- "keep watch"

Participating in leadership ministry within the church is not easy. It is time consuming and emotionally demanding.

Those who are to be led can make the job either a "joy" or a "burden."

To lead God's church is to be entrusted with the care of the spiritual well-being of God's flock.

And God holds leaders responsible, not only for their own lives but for their watchful care over the church.

James suggested to his readers that "Not many of you should presume to be teachers, my brothers, because you know that we who teach will be judged more strictly" (3:1). Leading the church is an awesome responsibility and a demanding task. But it is also the greatest privilege in the universe.

For the church to be effectively led, however, efforts to provide leadership must be reciprocated by members who accept their responsibilities.

They have responsibilities to God, to their leaders and to themselves.

First, obedience and submission to God-chosen leadership has been commanded by God.

To disregard this responsibility is to disregard the authority of God.

Also, members also have the responsibility to make the job of leadership easier, not more difficult. No one can lead without followers.

Finally, it is to their own advantage for members to work with leadership.

They are seeking our spiritual well-being.

The word translated "keep watch" (ἀγρυπνέω, agrypneō) literally means to "keep oneself awake." God will hold them accountable if they fall asleep on the job and many a leader has lost sleep serving the best interests of his charge.

It is God's plan for our spiritual growth to provide leaders who can help us.

If we frustrate their efforts, we are the ones who lose.

Leadership is often a lonely job. When one is part of the flock he has many friends. Once he becomes part of the leadership old friendships are no longer the same.

Look to the right and see:

no one stands up for me;

there is no refuge for me;

no one cares about me (Psalm 142:4)

Psalm 32:8, Psalm 78:72, Mark 10...

The secret does lie with those coming toward him, and said, "Behold the Lamb of God, who takes away the sin of the world! This is he of whom I said, 'After me comes a man who ranks before me, because he was before me.' I myself did not know him, but for this purpose I came baptizing with water, that he might be revealed to Israel."

Eldership

- Matthew says a leader must serve, and 1 Timothy says that a leader must rule.
- Matthew says that a leader must be confident, but James tells us that a leader must be humble.

Elements of temperament

Elements of temperament
Being in Control

Elements of temperament

Elements of temperament

Self-control (“temperate” 1 Tim 3:2 - same requirement is for wives, vs. 11; same for older men, Titus 2:2)

Not given to extremes

Acts with deliberation and control, rather than impulsively.

Financially undisciplined, engages in questionable entertainment practices, speaks recklessly...is not self-controlled.

Sober-minded (“prudent, serious, earnest” 1 Tim. 3:2)

Clearly focused on his task. Ability to make decisions based on rational versus on emotions.

Must be able to discern arguments, identify the motives of the unscrupulous.

Must have foresight to foresee the implications of his decisions.

Must have resolve when criticized and not allow his emotions to get the best of him.

A man who is reactionary rather than prudent is not suited for the job.

Not pugnacious (“violent,” “brawler,” “quarrelsome,” “bully” 1 Tim. 3:3)

All these words mean that an elder is calm, cool and collected. Not easily provoked - many temptations to anger and defensiveness.

Someone who is a bully or has the attitude of “my way or the highway” is not qualified.

Yet, an elder must have the mettle rebuke evil.

Not self-willed (Titus 1:7; 1 Peter 5:3)

An elder must be careful to lead the flock and not drive them forcefully. An elder must be careful not to impose his opinions on the church. When he advises it should be done with a gentle and loving spirit. Elders with fellow elders should always keep in mind that their duty as a Christian is to submit to one another.

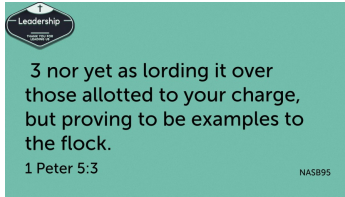

Titus 1:7

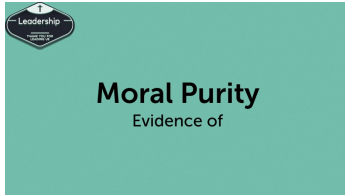

7 For the overseer must be above reproach as God's steward, not self-willed, not quick-tempered, not addicted to wine, not pugnacious, not fond of sordid gain,
Titus 1:7

NASB95

1 Peter 5:3

Moral Purity

Moral Purity

Moral purity

Lover of what is good (Titus 1:8; opposite of those in 2 Tim. 3:3)

Has a genuine desire to live purely and decently.

Does not privately engage in questionable activities that would undermine his respect if others knew of his behavior. Truly seeks things that are beneficial, godly and of impeccable reputation.

Not addicted to wine (1 Tim. 3:3)

An elder needs all of his mental, emotional and spiritual faculties in optimum working order. Therefore, he cannot afford to dull his senses with any type of fermented drinks or recreational drugs.

"I can drink and not get drunk." Not true, if senses become dull to any degree that person is drunk.

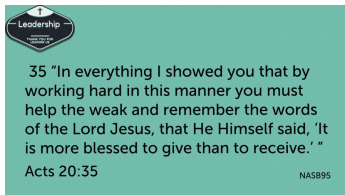

Elder's reputation must not be tarnished, it must be intact.

Not greedy (free of the love of money - (Tim. 3:3)

Must not be caught up in questionable money practices/dealings. Must not cheat on taxes, must not cheat others.

Must not live beyond his means and neglects his family and the church due to having to work too much.

Acts 20:35
